

Christianity and Politics in Late Antiquity: From Rome to Berlin

Saturday 29 September 2007, 2.00pm

Ioannou Centre for Classical and Byzantine Studies
66 St Giles', Oxford, OX1 3LU

The Oxford Centre for Late Antiquity is organizing an afternoon colloquium, with two sessions each involving a paper, a response and discussion, on Saturday 29th September.

2.00pm Introduction: Neil McLynn (Oxford)

Rita Lizzi Testa (Perugia):

Christian Emperor, Vestal Virgins, and Priestly Colleges: Rethinking the End of Roman Paganism

RESPONSE: Claire Sotinel (Tours)

---

3.30–4.00pm: Tea

---

4.00pm Claudia Rapp (UCLA)

Of Fossils, Stone Cutters and Royal Architects: A 19th-Century German Perspective on Late Antique Scholarship

RESPONSE: Fergus Millar (Oxford)

---

5.30pm: Drinks reception

---

The colloquium is an open event, free of charge, although numbers are restricted. If you would like to attend, please register as soon as possible by contacting Neil McLynn at <neil.mclynn@classics.ox.ac.uk>